Seneca Free Pres: "The usually good temper of one of our citizens was considerably aroused in Anderson a few days since by one of the candidates for office in that County. Our visitor to that city was driving at full speed in order to catch the train for Walhalla, which was about to move off, when he heard some one crying aloud, 'Halloo! mister, halloo! Stop just one minute, if, you please!' Reining up his horse suddenof Cokesbury, but formerly of this ly, an todividual came running to him almost out of breath and said : 'I see you are trying to catch the train, and will only say I'm a candidate for County Commissioner and will be mighty glad if you will do all you can for me in your neighborhod.' Our Seneca friend was too anx ious to reach the train to make any reply to the candidate, but he made a good many remarks on the car to prove that these candidates were becoming an intolerable nuisance to the people of the coun

Miss Lula Hurst, the wonderful Georgia girl, who exerts such a strange and mysterious power, was in Anderson or Wednesday night of last week, and gave an exhibition of her power to a crowded hall. She is a tall, rather attractive woman, of very strong physique. At the appointed hour Prof. Atkinson introduced her to the audience, and the performance began by the young lady holding an oper umbrella by the handle and requesting a gentleman to hold it still. Several of our ditizens tried it without being able to succeed. The umbiella was driven with man and all about over the stage as if it were a toy. The next experiment was with a billiard cue, which, likewise, was driven irresistibly about over the stage. Two strong men tried without success to force the cue to the floor. Then the same thing was tried with a chair. Numbers of our citizens were invited up from the audience to test "the force," and all succumbed to its power. The audience was amazed and delighted. Every one thought the force genuine and wonderful. Since then, however, there are not a few of our citizens who doubt her possession of any remarkable power, and contenthat it results from a skillful application oved and was standing upon the of lever power. Children's Day at Big Creek. Mr. Editon: Some time ago the American Baptist Publication Society issued a circular calling on all the Sunday Schools in the United States to observe the the second Sabbath in June as "Children's Day," and also published programme for the occasion. The Superintendent of Big Creek S. S., in com-pliance with this request, appointed the first Sunday instead of the second, it be-first Sunday instead of the second, it being the regular preaching day at this church. The Pastor kindly omitted the regular service, in order that the day might be devoted to the children.

At 10 o'clock the house was filled to overflowing by the parents and children of the surrounding country. At the appointed hour the Superintendent tapped his bell, and the choir arose and sang a beautiful voluntary selected for the occasion, after which the regular programme was carried out to the letter, which consisted of the reading of select portions of the Scripture, with responses from the whole school, interspersed with beautiful and appropriate hymns. Speakers were whole school, interspersed with beautiful and appropriate hymns. Speakers were also invited to address the children, the first being the beloved pastor, Rev. R. W. Burts, who delivered to the school a forcible and practical talk on the subject, "The Lord's need of little children." He was followed by L. P. Smith on a kindred subject, The closing speech was delivered by Col. John G. Cliukscales, giving us one of those eloquent Sunday School talks for which he is so eminently gifted, showing to parents the great responsibility of training up children "in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.
